Zone change considerations

Upland City Council will consider five zone changes and an amendment to the zoning code 7 p.m. Monday:

—Zone change from agricultural to single-family residential with minimum lot size of 15,000 square feet for 10 acres at the northeast corner of San Antonio Avenue and 18th Street.

—Zone change from agricultural to single-family residential with a minimum lot size of 20,000 square feet for 10 acres northeast of 19th Street and Euclid Avenue.

—Zone change from agricultural to highway commercial for 0.85 acre at the northeast corner of Central Avenue and Huntington Drive.

—Prezone change from light industrial to special land use for 2.5 acres northwest of 17th Street and Benson Avenue. Prezone changes take effect when the area is annexed by Upland.

—Prezone change from single-family residential (low density) to single-family residential with a minimum lot size of 10,000 square feet for 18.53 acres northeast of 16th Street and Benson Avenue.

—Amendments to the zoning code allowing additional business uses in commercial and administrative-commercial zones.

Upland High PTSA

"What you always wanted to know about Upland High School, but were afraid to ask" is the topic for the Parent-Teacher-Student Association (PTSA) meeting 7:30 tonight in the school cafeteria. Principal David Campbell, vice principals Dale McKeon and Don Culp, and school board trustee John Schnepp will answer questions on subjects ranging from scramble registration to smoking on campus.

Counselors Charles Pellitteri, JoAnn Weller, Ron Scott, Bill Wolfe, Frank Green, Betty Palmer, George Stuart and athletic coach Peter Raisbeck also will be present. Students and parents can submit written questions anonymously. "The Young Men in Harmony," a group of UHS students directed by Carl Walters, will entertain. The group includes Rick Rector, Wayne Wilson, Paul Sullivan, Steve Shiob, George Keith, Alan O'Brien, Kurt Wesalowski, Jonathon Gernon, Scott Ward and Richard Anderson.

Museum birthday party

The annual birthday party for Chaffey Communities Cultural Center Museum will include a slide program, musical entertainment and birthday cake 3 p.m. Sunday at the museum, 525 W. 18th St., Upland. President Beatrice Riggs will narrate a slide program showing the history of the museum since its beginning nine years ago. The Upland High School Girls' Ensemble will perform. Refreshments will be served by museum docents: the Mmes. Howard Clark and Althea Correll and the Misses Eunice Mitchell and Alberta Schaeffer. The museum will open at 1 p.m. Sunday so visitors will have a chance to view continuing and new exhibits before the program. The museum is also open 1-4 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays. Mrs. Riggs said the museum is collecting newspapers to raise money for future building. Newspapers should be tied in bundles and delivered to the museum during open hours.

School board meetings

Local School district board meetings this week include: Chaffey Union High School District 7 p.m. Monday at the district office, 211 W. Fifth St., Ontario; and Chaffey College 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the college administration building.

'Curious Read'

"Curious Read," the theme of National Children's Book Week Nov. 17-12, will be highlighted by magic when Dale Lorenzen, amateur magician, performs 4:30-5 p.m. Tuesday in the children's section of the Upland Public Library, 450 N. Euclid Ave. National Children's Book Week, which has been held the third week in November since 1919, will be celebrated at the library by posters, free book marks, display of new books for preschool, elementary and junior high school book lovers, and the regularly scheduled morning Story Time and Hobby Circle jointly held 10-10:30 a.m. Tuesday and Wednesday. For more information call the children's section of the library, 982-1561.

Fashion show

The Pomona Valley Women in Construction (WIC) will hold the annual fashion show and luncheon 12:30 p.m. Saturday at the Castaways Restaurant, Pomona. Town and Country Fashions of Claremont is providing clothes for the "Autumn Harvest of Fashion," according to coordinator Ruth Vinatieri of Montclair. Betty Genung of Upland will provide narration for models Wanda Fichtner of Upland, Betty May of Montclair, Peggy Rhoades of Ontario, Joan Seymour of Upland and Vickie Bohnstedt of Pomona.

Proceeds will support a local college scholarship, the National Association of Women in Construction (NAWIC) Education Foundation, gifts and entertainment for residents of Laurel Park of Pomona, and the National Founders Scholarship Fund. The buffet will be preceeded by a social hour at 11:30 a.m. For reservations call 981-1931 or 629-1306.

Story Time in Spanish

Story Time in Spanish, a new weekly program sponsored by the Friends of the Upland Library, will begin 1 p.m. Tuesday in the community room of Los Olivos, 1200 N. Plan review action expected

By Lynne Locke

The Upland City Council is expected to decide 7 p.m. Monday whether to order a general plan review and an environmental impact report (EIR) on the present general plan.

The review originally was requested by Upland Citizens for Quality Living who favor controlled, low-density development for Upland north of Foothill Boulevard.

The Upland Planning Commission also has suggested development of northwest Upland be considered on a comprehensive basis rather than 5-10 acres at a time.

The city staff has recommended the city complete an EIR of the present plan and then review its general plan in 1977 and 1978.

A city staff report said an EIR on the present general plan would "underscore" problems caused by present density patterns, provide "valuable input" for a general plan review, simplify paperwork for subsequent zone changes, and provide comparison information for EIRs on future development.

City Manager Lee Travers estimates the cost of an EIR on the general plan at $6,800-$7,500. "The staff feels this would be money well spent and recommended that council give serious consideration to moving ahead with such an EIR," he said.

A staff report recommending a general plan review noted five areas for considerations. The staff recommended printing a two-year supply of an updated general plan map since the present map used by the public is out of date.

Information which should be considered in a general plan review includes updated information from Upland Elementary School District on sites for projected schools, and housing information from the Housing and Community Development Block Grant program.

The staff report noted the council might want to review present park guidelines for low-density, single-family residential areas before revising the general plan.

General plan elements now required by the state should be reflected in the review process as well as in the revised general plan, according to the staff report.

The city staff is working on two additional studies to protect residential neighborhoods suggested by Councilwoman Ina Petokas and supported by the entire council.

The council also requested the staff to investigate the possibility of ammending the municipal code to provide city control over the operating hours of stores in neighborhood- commercial zones.

Councilwoman Petokas said the amendment would insure that hours of operation are suitable for residential neighborhoods.

Councilman Hal Bailin noted that such a limitation "could be a very serious interference" in operating a business.

The proposed amendment could come into conflict with state laws which affect such businesses as liquor stores. Mayor pro tem John McCarthy commented.

The council also directed the staff and city attorney to study the possibility of removing massage parlors from businesses permitted in neighborhood commercial, general commercial and commercial - professional zones.

The amendment proposed by Councilwoman Petokas would limit massage parlors to highway commercial zones.

Councilman Hal Bailin warned such an amendment might also limit legitimate physical therapists working in medical centers in commercial - professional zones.

Presbyterians commemorate local history

Upland church to burn mortgage

By Lynne Locke

Close to a century of West End history will be commemorated when the First Presbyterian Church of Upland holds a mortgage-burning ceremony 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

The ceremony will be followed by worship service, luncheon and an afternoon program commemorating both the history and the future of the church, 869 N. Euclid Ave.

The church, which was dedicated in January 1958, is the fourth church the First Presbyterians have built in Upland.

The church, built under the leadership of the Rev. Tusten Hart, is constructed of native rock from San Antonio Canyon.

Members of all ages selected rocks and transported them, a few at a time, to the church site, according to Gladys Flum, who has written a history of the church to commemorate the mortgage-burning. G.A. Brest came out of retirement to complete his last masonry job on the church.

The church bell, which has hung in all but the first church, was given in 1907 by James H. Sourwine in memory of his wife.

The church's organ, which was given by Jessie Keith Price in memory of Robert Osborne Price, is one of the nicest organs in the area, Mrs. Flum said.

The congregation's three previous churches were built on the northeast corner of Euclid Avenue and Ninth Street. Mrs. Flum said the first church was a "darling little church with a steeple," built in 1888 by Maude Grahame's father, John Gerry.

Tragically the church was destroyed by a windstorm only a few days after its dedication. Mrs. Grahame, who was born the year the church was built and heard the story many times as a child, said the incident almost broke her father's heart.

Gerry, who had learned building in England and worked in Canada before coming to Upland, had warned the building committee the large, square steeple was too tall for the building.

Mrs. Grahame said her father told the building committee, "a bad wind will just sweep down here and blow the steeple down." There were no windbreaks in those days because the pepper trees were only a few feet tall.

But, she said, the building committee wanted a steeple that could be seen from all over the valley because the Presbyterian Church was the first church built in Upland.

Gerry was right. The steeple was blown down in the first windstorm. The congregation salvaged as much wood as possible and began the job of building again.

Mrs. Flum said the second church, which was another "old-fashioned" church, was dedicated in 1892. When the congregation needed more space a "handsome gothic-style" church was built in 1911. That church served until 1965 when the present sanctuary was dedicated.

Part of Sunday's celebration will be memories from years of worship and church fellowship gathered into a booklet by Mrs. Grahame and Winnie Johnson.

"Today I am thinking how we came here, my husband and I, as strangers and in a short time had met so many people who have been friendly since," said Mary Hoard, who particularly remembers Edith Van Ness who "used to pick up all her neighbors and take us to church and the church activities" when gas was rationed during the war.

Others remembered specific incidents. "When the Baileys joined the Upland Church they were much surprised no collection was taken during the Sunday Service," remembered Herbert S. Bailey.

"One of the leading members, who was quite wealthy, felt it was sacreligious to have money change hands in the house of the Lord. Years later the collection was resumed," he noted.

Pearl Oswald remembers a "terrifying experience" one Easter Sunday when the over-loaded balcony cracked. It didn't completely fall so no one was injured, she said.

Earl Johnson served as a trustee in "the depth of depression when there never seemed enough money to keep things going and everything had to be cut to the bone — a difficult task."

Winifred O'Brien Buckley writes from Honolulu that she remembers "the Sundays when we gave for the Armenians after eating a lunch of plain bread and olives. And not much else because I remember still being hungry," she added.

Other long-time members recall specific people. Ernest W. Fischer said his memories center around Pastor Robert C. Stone who built a mountain cabin in Upper San Antonio Canyon with the help of church members.

Groups of hikers, led by Dr. Stone, would hike from Canyon Home to the top of Mt. Baldy, leaving the cabin at midnight to reach the peak in time for sunrise. Fischer said one group of hikers included an 8-year-old Sunday school student and a 72-year-old church member.

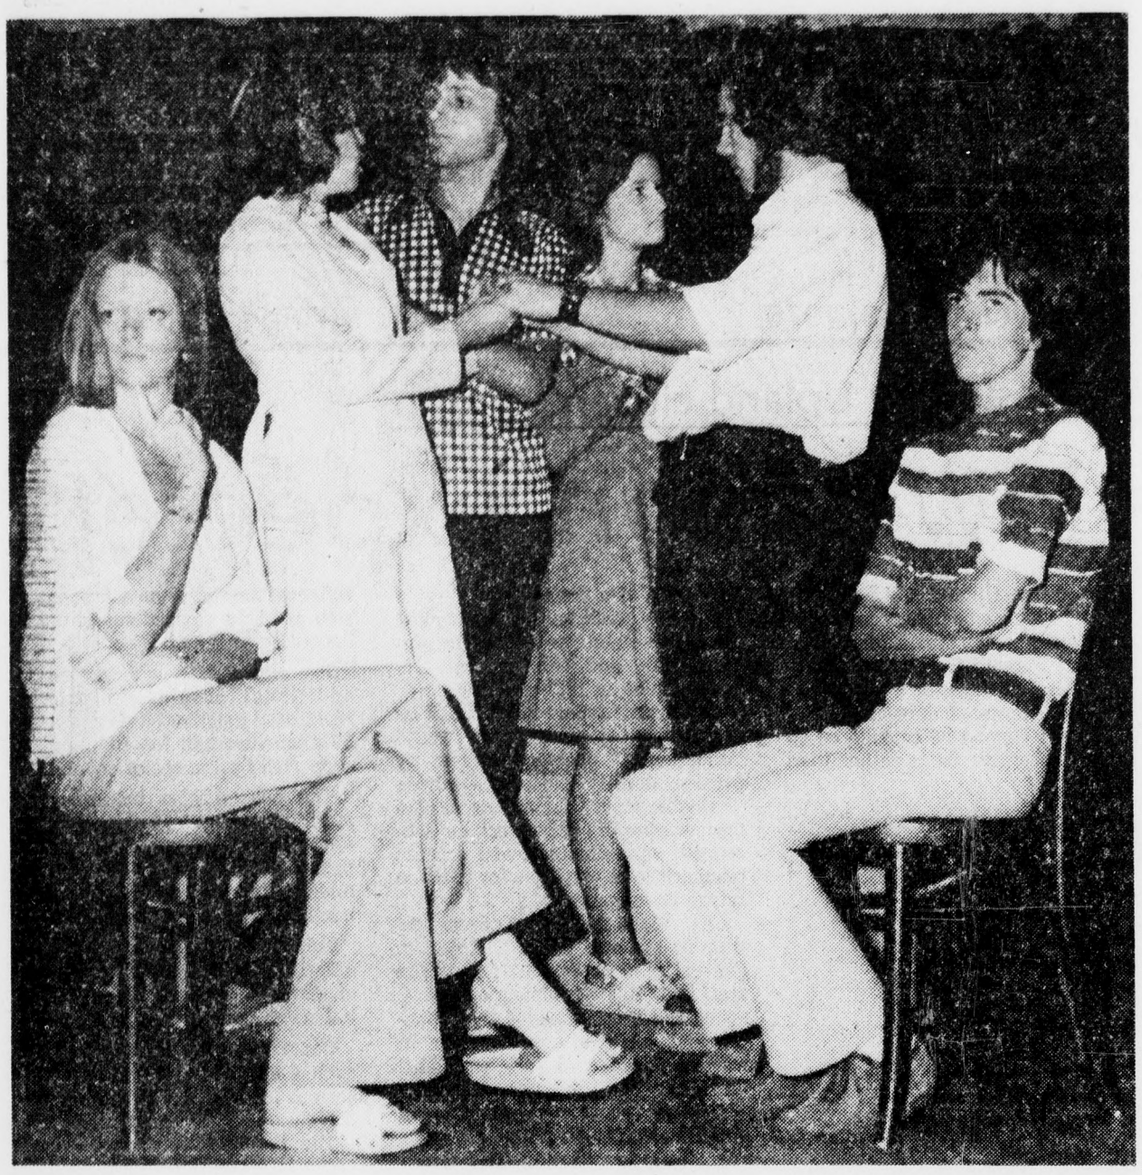
Maude Grahame remembers Frances Paul, who had a Sunday school class of "teenage girls who loved her dearly and called themselves the Frances Paul Girls."

The Paul Girls coordinated the church's flower festival and parade of flower-decorated floats ridden by small children. Mrs. Grahame said the organization continued until "many became grandmothers and some passed away and reunions were no longer possible."

The introduction to the memory booklet says, "We pay tribute to those who have helped make this moment possible. We have gathered the memories of the old church, forgetting the struggles but lovingly remembering the happy events."

Sunday's ceremony celebration commemorates all of the weddings, baptisms, funerals, candlelight vespers, prayer groups, Sunday school teachers, choir directors, organists and ministers who are part of the church's 87 years of history.

McIntyre (left) explains how to operate the $17,000 computer, the second one to be delivered in the nation, to her and student Chuck Laurenson. The computer, about the size and weight of an office typewriter, will be used by students in mineralogy classes, by Geology Department faculty for research, and for accounting operations in the department.



COMMUNICATION — Carol Morrow and Don Snodgrass just look bored as Robbie Wright and Mollie Chirch (back) break up an over-enthusiastic greeting by Jamie Kemmerer and William Owen in the Montclair High School production of "The Bald Soprano," which will be performed during an evening of one-act plays about the "Communication Gap" 8 p.m. tonight, Friday and Saturday at the school auditorium. Edward Albee's "Zoo Story" also will be presented. Admission is $1.25 and $1. (Photo by Lynne Locke)

Catholic Daughters of America

Court to note anniversary

Court Our Lady of Fatima 1387, Catholic Daughters of America (CDA), will hold the court's 30th anniversary dinner on Thursday, Nov. 20, at The Arbor Restaurant, Upland.

Arrangements for the event were announced by Mrs. Bernard Ticich, chairman, during the court's regular business meeting held recently at the Upland Woman's Clubhouse.

A social hour at 6:30 p.m. will open the anniversary celebration, followed by dinner at 7.

Reservations should be made by Nov. 17 with Mrs. Ticich, Mrs. W.W. Wolfe or Mrs. Ralph Cullen.

Musical entertainment will be provided by Mrs. Paul Diehl and Pat Diehl of Court of Peace, San Bernardino, and Frances Hillsdale of Court Our Lady of the Way, Rialto.

Charter members of the court to be honored at the celebration are: Mrs. Julius Ammanito, Mrs. F.J. Biane, Mrs. James Davidson, Mary Freitus, Mrs. Henry Lucas, Mrs. Floyd Patterson, Josephine Roth, Mrs. Thomas Stewart and Mrs. Robert Young.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Charles Lucas, regent, appointed the following committee members to assist Mrs. Ticich: Mrs. Cullen, Eleanor Gallagher, Mrs. John Morovic, Mrs. Caesar Pilota, Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. Glenn White and Isabel Smith.

Weeklies seek creative work

Local elementary, junior high and high school students can receive published recognition for their creative work.

The Christmas editions of the Upland News, Cucamonga Times and Montclair Tribune, published Dec. 24, will feature holiday artwork, photographs, poems, stories, essays and letters to Santa by local students.

The best submissions will be printed. Runner-up contributions will be listed in the newspapers.

Entry rules:

1. Work must be student's original work. Entry must include student's name, grade, school, and city or residence.

2. Student may enter four works but not more than two in any one category.

3. Categories: poems (all students eligible), essays (limited to junior high and high school), black and white photographs (limited to high school), cartoons and drawings (all students eligible), stories (limited to high school), letters to Santa (limited to elementary school).

4. Drawings and cartoons must be done in black ink or black marking pen and should be six inches wide. For best reproduction detail should be avoided.

5. Negatives must be submitted with photographs.

6. Poems, stories, essays and letters should be printed or written legibly on every other line or triple spaced if typed. Maximum length for stories and essays is 350 words (three typed pages).

7. All entries will be returned to sponsoring school.

Entry deadline is Dec. 8. Mail entries to Lynne Locke, 886 W. Foothill Blvd., Suite E, Upland 91786. Call 985-3535 for information.

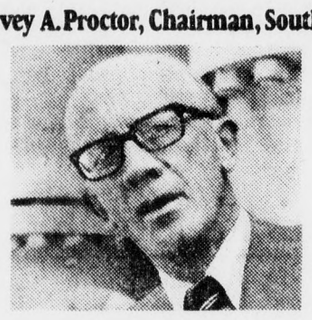
LOCALLY OPERATED — DONREY MEDIA GROUP

One of a series of reports by Harvey A. Proctor, Chairman, Southern California Gas Company.



We don't like to worry you ...but facts are facts.

Remember the advertisement to the right?

It was first published five years ago.

For that long and longer we've been warning southern Californians about an approaching natural gas shortage.

Natural gas supplies available to us from California sources have declined 30 per cent in the last six years.

Supplies from our most important out-of-state sources are being cut back by 14 per cent this year.

And we've been told to expect more cuts.

Gas is essential to southern California.

The Southern California Gas Company supplies around 12 million southern Californians with natural gas.

Approximately 95 per cent of all homes in southern California are heated by natural gas.

Some 92 per cent use gas to heat their water.

More than 75 per cent use it to cook.

Thousands of businesses and shops aren't equipped to use any other fuel except gas. And many industries use it both as fuel, and as a raw material for the products they manufacture.

Cold homes and lost jobs.

We've already had to cut back supplying natural gas to some companies — those that can convert to other fuels. By 1979, we'll have to start cutting back supplies to some customers who are not equipped to convert to other fuels — if we don't get new supplies in time.

Companies that are forced to turn to more expensive fuels are bound to raise their prices, contributing to inflation.

Businesses that depend on natural gas exclusively may experience shutdowns. That means heavy job losses.

Homes that are heated by natural gas are going to experience cold days.

We've been urging conservation and we continue to urge it.

Conservation must be a part of our daily lives.

But conservation alone can't solve the problem.

We're seeking more natural gas from domestic sources. But that by itself won't do the job either. There simply isn't enough available.

We plan to build a plant that makes substitute gas from coal. But over 100 approvals have been needed from more than 40 different government agencies, and that takes time.

Even when completed, this $1-billion plant will supply only a portion of our gas needs.

We're researching the development of new sources of energy, like solar energy, but scientists tell us reasonably priced energy from these sources in quantity is decades away.

We're negotiating to buy natural gas from Alaska. And we're looking into supplies in Canada, Indonesia, and South America.

But we're up against stiff competition from both domestic and foreign buyers who also badly need that gas.

To get some of the gas here, plants will have to be built to liquefy the gas so it can be shipped by LNG ship to California.

Then we're going to have to build facilities in California to reconvert the liquid to gas.

What is the solution?

It's a mix of all these efforts. But in the critical near future, if serious shortages are to be avoided, large-scale new supplies of gas are the only answer.

And we're working, furiously, at getting you that gas. We've served California, and we believe we've served it well, for more than 100 years. We intend to go on serving you despite the obstacles, despite the problems.

We can avoid the worst effects of the natural gas shortage. It need not happen!

We can stave off job losses, cold homes, and the heavy cost of converting appliances and heating systems to more expensive forms of energy.

But to succeed, we must have the cooperation of governmental officials, the regulatory agencies, consumer groups, and all others involved.

We can solve this problem, and with your help we shall!

Former national BPW leader to speak locally

Dorothy M. Ford, a past California state and national president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's (BPW) Clubs, will be the speaker on Thursday when the Upland BPW meets at the Upland Woman's Clubhouse.

The speaker's topic will be "A Woman's Place is Her Decision."

Dr. Ford has spent a major part of her life working in behalf of women and youth. She was one of the first to set up a recruiting program for women during World War II. She was a consultant in the field of business and career education with the Los Angeles County Schools and now serves as corporate manager of personnel and employe development for Southern California Edison Co.

She recently was appointed by Persident Gerald Ford to the President's National Commission for Manpower Policy. She was appointed by former California Gov. Ronald Reagan to serve another four-year term on the Status of Women Commission in California. Recently, she was elected president and chairman of the board of the National Status of Women's Research and Education Foundation.

Dr. Ford will bring in formation on the Status of Women and will be assisted by Marilyn DeRose, immediate past state president of California.

Plans are being made by the Upland BPW to present the Woman of Achievement award.

Music during the Thursday meeting will be provided by "The Young Guitarists."

Guests are welcome and dinner reservations may be made by calling 982-2905 or 982-0520.

Governor to visit West End, attend McVittie fund raiser

Governor Edmund Brown Jr. will visit the West End on Jan. 30 to meet with local officials and to attend a fund raiser for local Assemblyman William McVittie, D-65th Dist.

Brown's appearance at McVittie's fund raiser is only one of seven the governor plans to attend in the next few months for individual Democratic candidates.

Last month, Brown refused to attend a dinner in Los Angeles for six presidential candidates. The governor has said he prefers to attend legislators' dinners rather than general fund raisers because he feels his appearance at smaller gatherings is more helpful in turning out crowds.

McVittie said he is "pleased the governor has accepted my invitation to visit and meet with my constituents." He said Brown will meet with local officials, tour the district, hold a press conference and speak at the fund raiser.

PAST AND FUTURE — Marion Walker tells the future for Sandy Manning in a Take Off Pounds Sensibly (TOPS) skit honoring Mrs. Manning as a five-year KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly). Mrs. Manning looks to a promising future after reaching her ideal weight in six months and then meaintaining that weight for five years. During pregnancy, she staved within a prescribed weight-gain limit to keep her KOPS status. Mrs. Walker has maintained KOPS status for nine years. Both women are Cucamonga residents and members of TOPS CA 540 of Ontario which meets 7-9 p.m. Wednesdays at the Gingerbread Nursery School, 965 W. Sixth St., Ontario. For information on TOPS call 987-5760.

United Way goal reached

The 1975-76 fund raising campaign of the West End United Way has reached $289,295 or 52 per cent of its goal of $550,599, it was announced at the recent mid-point campaign luncheon held at the Weste End YMCA.

In making the announcement to assembled campaign workers and community representatives, Dale Eckrote, president of WEUW, lauded the efforts of fund raisers and thanked the West End people who made donations that would fund 32 community service organizations.

"The response of the people in the West End has been great so far," Eckrote said, "and I think they should take pride in themselves for contributing a little extra this year to assure their neighbors the people of the West End care for one another."

As each of the campaign division chairman announced progress in the drive, Eckrote acknowledged corporate contributions of $17,700 from Kaiser Steel, $5,550 from Bank of America, $800 from Standard Oil of California, $10,200 from General Electric and $4,775 from First National Bank & Trust.

Tina Phillips of the Federal Aviation Administration reported that the combined federal employes campaign had collected $6,620, or 118 per cent, of its $5,599 goal.

Eckrote told his audience that a friendly competition between water district employes was taking place.

A Woman Ought to Know

Should mothers work too?

Dear Anita,

Mothers with small children should not be allowed to work. Don't you agree they should stay home and raise their children, at least until they reach school age?

S.G., Camarillo

Dear S.G.,

There is an increasing amount of evidence which establishes that a child develops at the same pace whether or not the mother is employed. Several studies have indicated similar development between the chidren of working mothers and those of mothers who are not employed. (See "Working Mothers," Lois W. Hoffman and F.I. Nye).

Of course, many mothers do not have the luxury of choice in this matter. More than 12 million children in this country are supported by female heads-of-household.

Nearly half of all mothers in the United States have jobs outside their homes. More than a third of these working mothers have children under 6 years of age. Most of the mothers with young children who work do so for the same reason other women work; they need the income from their jobs.

Anita Miller

Dear Anita,

I watched a television debate on the Equal Rights Amendment recently. One of the women claimed that if the amendment passes, a woman will be required to take a job outside the home in order to support her family. Is this true?

J.M.,
San Francisco

Dear J.M.,

All States require a husband to support his wife and children, and some states require husbands and wives to support each other. However, these laws are not enforced unless a marriage breaks up and one of the partners files for divorce or brings a criminal action for nonsupport. The courts have ruled that a married woman living with her husband can get only what he chooses to give her.

Californians have been living under a mutual support law since 1970 (Civil Code 5100 8 Husband and wife contract toward each other obligations of mutual respect, fidelity and support). However, support her husband has been initiated. This absence of judicial interference in ongoing marriage reflects the proper role of the support laws. ERA scholar Thomas Emerson has noted the law's limited powers to "predetermine and control the nature of intimate personal relationships." ("Yale Law Journal," Vol. 80, No. 5, April, 1971.)

The ERA will require husbands and wives to support one another depending on their financial status and their contributions to the household. A wife's contributions of time, energy and skill in her home may constitute her portion of support. There would be no question, in or out of the courtroom, of a woman's status as homemaker and mother. It would be equal to her husband's status as breadwinner. ERA would not change private arrangements between husband and wife, and no court would interfere in a marriage that is intact.

Dear Readers:

The Federal Equal Credit Opportunity Act, which went into effect on Oct. 28, prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex or marital status in the granting of credit. The new regulations cover all businesses which extend credit to individuals, including banks, department stores, finance companies, and governmental agencies.

There will be a delay in the effective date of some of the regulations which were written to implement this act. A provision which says that alimony and child-support payments must be considered as income will go into effect on Jan. 1, 1976.

Another important provision, which will be effective on Nov. 1, 1976, refers to the credit history of family accounts. It will enable a widow, divorcee, or married woman to seek credit in her own name by using her previous "family" or joint account rating.

These and other provisions were delayed in order to give creditors an opportunity to comply with the new regulations a set at a time. Not all of the regulations are as strong as they should be.

On the whole, however, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act is an importnat step forward in reaching true equality in the area of economic security for women.

High school bands, drill teams

Chaffey will host pageant

Chaffey College will host a pageant of 14 high school marching bands and drill teams on Nov. 22 in the Panther stadium.

The field show competition will be for band and drill-team awards ranging from first through fourth place in each of two classes. There will be sweepstakes trophies for the best overall band and drill team regardless of class.

Classes will be determined by the size of the school, A for small and AA for large.

With Chaffey College instrumental music director Jack M. Mason coordinating, the contest will be adjudicated by the Southern California School Band and Orchestra Association.

Class AA High school entries will be Claremont, Cypress, West Covina, Orange, Oceanside, Huntington Beach and Westminster. Class A contestants will be Mater Dei (Santa Ana), Fallbrook, Northview (Covina), Esparanza (Anaheim), William S. Hart (Newhall), Workman (City of Industry) and Savanna (Anaheim).

Each band and drill-team show will be from nine to 12 minutes in duration.

"In many instances, this event will express the latest developments in half-time presentation in the country," Mason said.

There is an admission charge.

Bureau to take survey

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct the Bureau's monthly survey of employment in the West End during the week of Nov. 17 to 21, C. Michael Long, director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Los Angeles, announced recently.

The survey is conducted by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of households throughout the United States. Employment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the nation's economic health.

In September the survey indicated that of the 93.2 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 85.4 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 8.3 per cent, about the same as in July and August when it was 8.4 per cent

Nancy Roleder of Upland served as a senior princess in the Homecoming Court at California Lutheran College in Thousand Oaks.

Senator to discuss child abuse

The California Nurses' Association, Region Four, has arranged for Sen. Robert Presley, 34th District, to present "Child Abuse: A Legislative View" on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the University of California, Riverside Faculty Club.

Sen. Presley, who has been involved in the problems of this area through his association with the County Sheriffs office, became interested in the problem of child abuse during his service with that department, serving in Indio as well as in the San Bernardino area. There will be an opportunity for discussion of current and pending California health legislation.

Sen. Presley will be on hand to meet with individuals from 6:30 to 7:30 during the no-host social hour. For further information, call 824-0609 or Ruth Schnidler at 982-7211 after 6 p.m. Donations will be requested from non-CNA members.

Hoop signups set Saturday in Montclair

Signups for the Montclair Youth Basketball League will be held Saturday, and again Nov. 15 and 22, at the Montclair High School gym, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Boys and girls, age nine but not older than 14 on Jan 1, 1976, are eligible to play.

Next general meeting of the MYBL is scheduled Nov. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the Montclair City council chambers. Parents are urged to attend.

Olympians

The Olympians placed first for majorette corps in the Calico Old Ghost Town Days celebration. The 85-member group was featured in a show following the parade.

The baton corps placed first in the Tricommunity Bicentennial Parade. The Olympians new drum corps made its first public appearance at the parade. For information on the Olympians call director Diane Trostle, 984-9809.

Blue Birds

Sunshine Blue Birds from Citrus School, Upland took the first step in the Camp Fire program when they participated in a pinning ceremony last week.

Fourteen second graders, led by Nancy Keith and Karen Miller, received their membership pins and cards and their first Blue Bird emblems. As part of the ceremony they lit Blue Bird wish candles and recited the Blue Bird wish.

The new Blue Birds include: Tracey Brandt, Mariann Cavin, Laura Cogbill, Leslie Cory, Traci Gilmer, Cherleen Karns, Cindy Keith, Armida McCall, Kimber Miller, Windy Mock, Julie Owen, Dina Reich, Holli Wetzler and Elaine Wu.

November events for the group include learning how the Indians helped the Pilgrims and making Indian headbands. The Blue Birds will plan a Thanksgiving dinner to be delivered to an Indian family at the El Monte Indian Center.

The group's December project is sewing and stuffing Christmas stockings for the children's Christmas party at the El Monte Indian Center. Mrs. Keith said, "Blue Birds always try to share with others."

Savings bonds

Three Montclair elementary school students have won $50 savings bonds in the Montclair Fire Department Fire Prevention Week poster contest.

Citywide winners include fourth grader Mike Martinez and fifth grader Paul Neault, both of Our Lady of Lourdes School; and sixth grader Shawna Clayman of Lehigh School.

The three received their savings bonds at the Montclair City Council meeting last week. Poster theme was "Learn not to burn."

School winners include: Diana Rau, John Papis and Cindy George, Kingsley School; Laura Murray, Darrin Coffland, and Angie Gregory, Moreno School; Kristal Alvarez, Linda Laws, and Bill Ross, Monte Vista School.

Others are Delanee Anderson, Craig Jiminez, and Tarik Trad, Margarita School; Mondo Lanier, and Darla Templeton, Lehigh School; and Maria Pavlick, Our Lady of Lourdes School.

Directors

Cucamonga District elected three new directors: Charles Poe; Roger Gibson, treasurer; and Jack R. Miller, secretary. Phil Schlosser is president and Al Blessent is vice president.

New chamber members include: Sycamore Villa Mobile Home Park, Reindeer Christmas Tree Farm, West End Drapery Service, Cleveland Crane and Engineering, Yamaha of Cucamonga, and Robert Manufacturing Co., all of Cucamonga; Arthur H. Bridge of Alta Loma; Ferromat Inc. of Etiwanda; and Dow Chemical Co. of Torrance.

Scholarships

Alta Loma High School seniors Brenda Sanders and John Carlson have been awarded scholarships by Art Center School of Design, Los Angeles. They will attend the Art Center on Saturdays for a 10-week special drawing class according to art teacher Mrs. Dale Hansen.

Top nurses

Intercommunity Hospital of Covina has honored two West End residents for service to the hospital. Honorees are Bertha Becker, R.N., of Upland, 15 years; and Nancy Saxton, L.V.N., of Cucamonga, five years.

Commissioner

Teresa Embry has been named girls' athletic commissioner at Alta Loma High School. She is in charge of keeping athletic records which are compiled on the girls during their four years at Alta Loma. She also helps coordinate the girls' award banquets.

Donation

The Rotary Club of Upland has donated a phonograph record bin to the Upland Public Library.

ALHS officers

Alta Loma High School freshman class officers for the 1975-76 school year are Bev Stephen, president; Kathy Craddick, vice president; Cheri Richards, secretary; and Tami Ripley, treasurer.

Girls' banner

Alta Loma High School has earned the all-league girls' athletic banner, according to Teresa Embrey, girls' athletic commissioner. If the school earns the banner three years in a row, the banner will remain at Alta Loma.

Karate honors

Karen Creagh took first in women's sparring, followed by Joanne Mahoney who took second in women's sparring and third in form competition.

Carolyn Marroll placed second in form competition, junior division. Instructor John Santiago took third place in black belt sparring, light-weight division.

Dog breeding precautions

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

Unwanted Puppies are the best reason to be concerned when your female dog enters her heat periods. Many dog owners today prefer not to have their female pets altered, particularly if the animals are purebred and they hope to mate them. In such cases, these owners need to take special precautions with the female during her seasonal periods.

Dogs become sexually mature during the ages of six to twelve months, and during this time, the female begins her first heat period. These periods are usually six months apart and last around three weeks. During the middle week of the period, the female is receptive to males and can usually become pregnant at this time. If you do not want puppies, then you must keep your female dog indoors during the middle receptive week.

You can recognize when your dog is entering a period of heat first by her extra friskiness and affection, her increase or decrease in appetite and urination and the swelling of her external genital organ. After about five days, a bloody discharge may begin and will continue four or five more days.

During the bleeding period, you should keep your dog closed off in a specific indoor area. However, don't shut her in a basement or closet because whe is already somewhat unsettled. Reassure her with frequent attention and a warm tone. You might need to cover the genital area with some sanitary protection. If you have children around, tell them the bleeding is a normal condition and not to be alarmed. Try to keep your dog away from things she might soil without making her sense that you would like to banish her. If you feel this way about her season, it is best for you and for her if she is spayed.

When the bleeding discharge lessens, your dog is ready for breeding. If you do not wish to breed her, the next five days are the most critical in terms of confinement. If you live in the city, the problem may not be serious, since male dogs there are usually leashed and therefore controllable. But suburban male dogs frequently roam the neighborhood looking for a female in heat.

During the final week of her season, your dog may repulse any male who approaches her, so is in little danger of becoming pregnant.

Before the onset of heat, you might want to take your dog to your veterinarian for a hormone injection that will halt the period. Also, the first oral product for controlling a heat period and for the treating false pregnancy in dogs was introduced recently. Your veterinarian will know about it. Since your dog can produce a litter or two every year, there is no point in rushing her. If she is very young, she may be immature psychologically and insufficiently developed physcially to cope with the sudden burden of all those puppies. I recommend mating her no sooner than her second heat period. The American Kennel Club will not permit registration of a litter from a female under eight months or over twelve years. Most dogs should not be bred after their eighth or ninth year, for the strain, the work and the general anxiety may be too much for them.

If you are interested in breeding your dog and she has a history of failing to becoming pregnant after being bred, your veterinarian can help again by testing her to determine the exact day that is best for breeding.

If your pet seems to be in season more than twice a year or if she is discharging between seasonal periods, consult with your veterinarian. A thorough examination will safeguard your dog's health.

Meat processors pick Uplander as director

Bill Landecena of Upland has been elected national director of the American Association of Meat Processors. The election was announced at the association's convention in Kansas City, Mo.

Landecena is co-owner of Arrow Meat Co., 1655 W. Arrow Highway, Upland.

Opera season opens

The 11th season of the West End Opera Season will be heralded on Saturday, Nov. 15, with the presentation of "La Traviata" by Guiseppe Verdi.

This presentation will be held at 8 p.m. in Gardiner Spring Auditorium, Chaffey High School campus, Ontario, with Charles Ross Perlee as conductor and stage director.

This performance will mark Perlee's return from a five-week assignment of staging and conducting Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutti" in South Korea. These performances were Sponsored by the government and involved 25 productions.

Perlee is a native of California. He received a B.A. degree in piano performance in 1955 from UC, Santa Barbara. He has served as conductor for the Santa Barbara Ballet and Opera Guild.

In 1956, he conducted the Pasadena Opera Guild, and he served the military as pianist in the 7th Army Symphony Orchestra. In 1959, Perlee was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship in opera conducting for the Munich Conservatory. At the same time, he also was performing as rehearsal pianist and associate stage director with the Spoleto Festival for Two Worlds. While in Germany, he also translated Wilson's "Music Man" into German offering it for the first time in that language.

Returning to San Francisco in 1966, Perlee joined the musical staff of its opera association whole also serving the Honolulu state-supported opera workshop as staging director for five seasons.

Among his other musical endeavors, Perlee was stage director of the Redlands Bowl Summer Festival, interim head of the opera department at UCLA's Schoenberg Hall. In Los Angeles, he recently staged Mozart's "Abduction from the Seraglio" for the Euterpe Opera in the Music Center, Los Angeles.

Serving as choral director of the West End Opera season opener will be William L. Waggener as choral director. Waggener has been active in the opera productions for eight years and has been directing the opera chorus for five seasons.

He is a gradaute of Pomona College with an M.A degree in music, and is on the faculty of Ganesha High School, Pomona.

Art director for the production will be JoAnn Warner and Robyn Whitney as choreographer.

Detergents

Many consumers may be under the misapprehension that only some detergents are biodegradable (the ability of the organic constituents to be broken down by biological action into the simplest components). The Soap and Detergent Association would like to point out that all of the washing and cleaning products manufactured for use throughout the United States have been of the readily biodegradable type since mid-1965.

Although most detergent packaging does contain a reference to the product's biodegradability, some brands are not so labeled.

Nevertheless, all brands are of this type. Furthermore, it makes no difference what type of detergent a consumer selects — a normal sudsing or low-sudsing product — the action of biodegradability occurs after a detergent has done its job in a washer or dishpan.

Health Tips

Smog: what to do about it

EDITOR'S NOTE: Health Tips is a column of the California Medical Education and Research Foundation, prepared and edited by physician members of the California Medical Association. It is reprinted by this newspaper as a public service.

When the concentration of pollutants reaches a hazardous level in California's large urban areas, an air pollution episode ("smog alert") is declared. The principal pollutants for which episodes are declared are oxidant (ozone), carbon monoxide and sulfur dioxide.

Oxidant pollution is most likely to reach high concentrations during the warm, sunny months (April through October), particularly after morning traffic and usually in areas where prevailing winds move the polluted air masses. Under certain conditions of low inversion levels and air stagnation, hazardous levels of carbon monoxide can be reached, usually during winter months.

An air pollution episode is declared when a dangerous level of pollution exists for an hour or more or is predicted to last for that length of time. You can get information about these conditions via television and radio broadcasts, newspaper weather reports or by phoning your local Air Pollution Control District office.

Air pollution episodes are graded in three stages, depending on the concentration of pollutants. Stage 1 represents a level that may be uncomfortable but is not health-threatening to the general public. It can, however, cause distressing symptoms among persons who are sensitive or who have certain health problems. Stages 2 and 3 are more dangerous to these vulnerable groups and also affect the general public.

People who are particularly susceptible to added health problems during air pollution episodes include those with chronic lung diease (such as emphysema or chronic bronchitis) and intermittent lung disease (such as asthma). They may experience increased coughing, phlegm, wheezing or shortness of breath.

Persons with other chronic illnesses, elderly persons and infants may become more susceptible to infection. Persons with certain types of vascular diseases (those suffering from angina, for example) may experience pain when carbon monoxide levels cause a decrease of oxygen delivery to tissues. These responses can be expected even at Stage 1. When it gets higher than that, these vulnerable groups experience more severe symptoms, but almost everyone, even if healthy, will experience some discomfort. This may include nose, eye and chest discomfort, headache and impaired exercise performance.

What can you do in such emergencies? If you have any of the chronic conditions mentioned above and are under a physician's care, get in touch with him if your symptoms become severe. Know what medications to use for specific symptoms. Maintain adequate fluid intake. Know the location of your nearest emergency treatment facility in case your doctor advises increased therapy (ventilation assistance, oxygen therapy, etc.).

Everyone — even those in good health — can weather an air pollution episode more comfortably by keeping in mind the following advice.

—Do not smoke and avoid places where others are smoking.

—Remain indoors for the duration of the alert. Keep doors and windows closed and recirculate the indoor air. If you have an air conditioner, use it, since the discomfort caused by pollutants is made worse by high temperatures. Activated charcoal air filters will help reduce oxidant levels.

—Avoid aerosols, dust, fumes and other irritants. Reduce to a minimum domestic activities, cooking, hobbies or occupations which produce irritants.

—Delay strenuous physical activities until the "all clear" is announced. Avoid exertion or excitement which increases your breathing rate and the body's oxygen needs. Plan other diverting activity for the young.

—If you must be outside avoid areas of congested traffic where pollutants are being generated. Avoid contact with persons suffering from respiratory infections.

—Plan your activities. During air pollution season listen to forecasts and postpone unnecessary activities if an air pollution episode is pending. The times of day when the episodes are likely to reach their peak are mid-morning through early evening. Check with your Air Pollution Control District for local predictions of the hours and duration of high pollutant levels.

SCULPTOR — Lucy Fine, one of the Southland's leading sculptors, will show an exhibit of her sculpture beginning Nov. 18 in the University of Judaism Art Gallery in Los Angeles. The exhibit will remain open 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. weekdays through the end of the year.

New kitchen and bath remodeling guide available

Planning a kitchen or bathroom modernization project? If you're like most people, you need all the help you can get.

Careful planning is the best route for homeowners to follow if they want long-term satisfaction from a newly remodeled kitchen or bath. With this in mind, the standard certificate program of the national Kitchen Cabinet Associaton has published a new booklet for consumers, "Kitchen and Bath planning."

Authored by Hildegarde Popper, former kitchen equipment editor of House & Garden magazine, the 16-page color booklet contains helpful suggestions

To obtain "Kitchen and Bath Planning," send 35 cents with your name and address to National Kitchen Cabinet LAssociation, P.O. Box 2978, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

HEADQUARTERS FOR YOUTH AND YOUNG ADULT FURNITURE

The "girls" are talking over what comes next in "Sugar," the production opening Friday in the California Theater of Performing Arts, San Bernardino, by the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera Association. Bob Denver, left, formerly with TV's "Gilligan's Island," Linda Kay Henning of TV's "Petticoat Junction," center, and Bill Millikin share the billing in the rousingly funny musical which was in the movies as "Some Like It Hot" with Marilyn Monroe and Jack Lemmon. The show will run through Nov. 22. Tickets are available at Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

Broadway star added

Bill Mullikin, Broadway stage, film, and television star, will star in San Bernardino Civic Light Opera's elaborate production of the rousing hit, "Sugar," the musical version of the award-winning motion picture, "Some Like It Hot."

"Sugar," which opens CLO's 1975-76 season, will be presented for a limited engagement Nov. 14 through Nov. 22, at the California Theatre of Performing Arts in San Bernardino.

Mullikin is no stranger to Inland Empire audiences, having appeared in CLO's highly successful productions of "The Most Happy Fella," "Hello Dolly," starring Martha Raye, and the moving musical, "1776."

Mexican gala at fun park

MAGIC Mountain will host a spectacular "Memories of Mexico" celebration, Saturday and Sunday featuring special gala festivities and entertainment throughout the giant 200-acre park. Magic Mountain will be open both days from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Featured guest artists at the Showcase Theatre will be Mexico's famed international singing stars, Pedro Vargas and Miguel Aceves Mejia, performing at 2 and 4 p.m.

The one-price admission entitles guests to unlimited use of more than 50 wild thrill rides and memory-making attractions, plus admission to all of the special festival shows and entertainment.

Paul Winter Concert at MSAC

The Paul Winter Consort will kick off Mt. San Antonio College's Celebrity Concert Series 8 p.m. Saturday in gym No. 3.

Tickets, $4 for general admission and $2 for students, are available in the Community Services office, building 4, room 221.

The Winter Consort creates original music using an amalgam of rock and symphonic instruments (cello, oboe, harp, sax, timpani), as bands like Blood, Sweat and Tears have done with brass.

It has been described as a long-simmered stew of rock, jazz and classical music whose flavor has become so intertwined that the parts are impossible to isolate.

"The Consort is a bridge between the world of ordered music, classical and symphonic, and the world of free-form music, such as rock, jazz and folk music," said Paul Winter founder of the group. "We feel equal allegiance to African music, to Bach and to our own homemade songs."

The consort evolved out of the Paul Winter Sextet, a Northwestern University group which won the 1961 Intercollegiate Jazz festival, toured 23 countries of Latin America for the State Department and played the White House for the Kennedys.

"My idea of 'consort' is a group in which ensemble playing and improvising with a variety of sounds are integrated — an organic blend in which every voice is distinct, within which each player has freedom to embellish and in which the experience of playing music is totally involving for each player," said Winter.

He said the Winter Consort demonstrates the possibilities of putting together strange and unique combinations of instruments, and of making original music for those instruments by drawing from the influences of whatever "musics" one cares about.

"I want to show that any small combination of instruments can make music together and that anyone can improvise, in consort with others, if they can play a simple scale," said Winter.

The Consort that will play at MSAC includes: Paul Winter, Selmer soprano and alto saxes; David Darling, cello; Paul McCandless, oboe and English horn; Joel Andrews, harp; Russ Hartenburger and Bob Becker, percussion.

Their MSAC concert will include: "Icarus" (Ralph Towner); Ballad in 7/8 — Variations on a theme from Bela Bartok "Canta, Canta Mais" (Antonio Carlos Jobim); "In Wildness is the Preservation of the World" (Paul Winter); "Ave Maris Stella" (Guilaume Dufay); "Tree Fall" (David Darling); "Whole Earth Chant Minuit" (Paul Winter); "Fantasia in G" (J. S. Bach); "Touch the Earth" (David Darling); "Cathedral Forest" (Joel Andrews); "Dance of the Garden" (Paul Winter); "The Mermaid of Indian Summer" (Paul Winter) and "Song for Charlie," improvisations in the spirit of Charles Ives.

The Consort's three albums for A & M Records are "The Winter Consort," "Something in the Wind" and "Road." Their latest LP for Epic Records is called "Icarus."

'Spectrum' set at art museum

"Spectrum," the season's second presentation sponsored by the Art Museum Council of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, continues through Jan. 9, 1976 in the museum's Art Rental Gallery.

This show of seven Southern California artists includes works in a variety of media such as oil paint, acrylics, rhoplex, graphite, pastels, inks and ceramics. The artists to be represented in this show are Bill Borden, Doug Debber, Merrill Everett, Dennis Garcia, John Miller, Margit Omar and Cynthia Von Der Embse.

Each year the Art Museum Council, one of the museum's nine supporting councils, organizes a series of thematic presentations in the Art Rental Gallery that reflects the diversity of attitudes and media in contemporary art. Many young artists are given their first opportunity to show their work to the public in Art Rental Gallery presentations.

The Art Rental Gallery is open to the public 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free. Only museum members may purchase or rent works of art. The Art Rental Gallery is located on the lower level of the Leo S. Bing Center at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, 5905 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles.

Wood cut illustrations at Scripps

Fine printing and woodcut illustrations from the Janus Press, founded by Claire Van Viet in 1955, will be exhibited at Denison Library at Scripps College, 10th and Columbia, Nov. 19 through December.

Miss Van Vliet, who has issued 32 publications on the Janus Press, now operates the press on a farm in northern Vermont where she lives with her husband, a potter and glassblower, and their children. The Claremont Graduate School graduate is a printmaker as well as an illustrator of texts, notably those of Kafka, and has colloborated with and inspired other graphics artists.

Many of the Janus Press publications are now out of print and can be seen only in rare book libraries and private collections.

Special events at Disneyland

Daily pageantry, traditional seasonal salutes and special events, all staged amid a leisurely atmosphere, make the fall, winter and spring seasons an opportune time to enjoy Disneyland.

Each day at 3 p.m., during Disneyland's Wednesday through Sunday operating schedule, Main Street, U.S.A. becomes a stage for "America on Parade" and its whimsical salute to our nation's 200th birthday.

Aboard a giant American eagle, Mickey Mouse, Goofy and Donald Duck, as the "Spirit of '76," lead the procession, which includes 50 colorful units and some 150 eight-foot-tall "People of America."

There is ample time to enjoy this patriotic parade, along with the Park's many adventures and attractions, throughout the mid-September to mid-June schedule. During this time Disneyland is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Wednesdays through Fridays, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. on weekends and closed on Mondays and Tuesdays, except when holidays and special events are celebrated with extended hours.

Many of these activities are slated, including Disneyland's joyful Christmas season, Dec. 20 through Jan. 3.

On those dates the Park will be open daily, with longer hours, to accommodate the added entertainment, which will include pop performers on stage, along with the sounds of Harry James and His Big Band on Dec. 20-23 and Woody Herman and His Orchestra on Dec. 26-30 and Jan. 2-3.

Adding to the spirit will be a special Christmas edition of "America on Parade." Incorporated into the pageant's many salutes will be a loving toast to Christmas, headed by Santa Claus himself and featuring a number of traditional scenes of the season.

The parade will be showcased at 2 and 9 p.m. during the holidays, staged daily amid the festively decorated Park.

On Dec. 20 and 21 the true spirit of Christmas will be captured during the stirring "Candlelight Procession," featuring more than 1,000 choir voices and a daramatic reading of "The First Christmas" by a guest celebrity narrator.

Prior to Christmas, Disneyland will observe Thanksgiving with extended hours, along with the performances Nov. 28 and 29 by Jose Felicinao and the Glenn Miller Orchestra directed by Jimmy Henderson.

Edwards: home of Air Force Flight Test Center

Open house set Sunday at Air Force Base

EDWARDS AFB — Sunday's open house at Edwards Air Force Base will distinguish it from most others with its number and variety of displays.

Edwards is the home of the Air Force Flight Test Center (AFFTC), where virtually every new aircraft aerospace weapon system being considered for the Air Force inventory undergoes thorough testing and evaluation.

Together with the NASA Flight Research Center, Air Force Rocket Propulsion Laboratory and Army Aviation Engineering Flight Activity, the AFFTC and its tenant units will offer the open house visitor a first-hand inspection of the latest in aerospace technology.

This year's event salutes the Bicentennial themes of Heritage '76 and Horizons '76 by exhibiting scores of antique, current and future aircraft which have and will contribute significantly to the growth and advancement of military aviation.

The open house also will recognize and focus upon the United Nations General Assembly declaration of 1975 as International Women's Year (IWY). The three fold purpose of IWY is to promote worldwide equality between men and women, ensure full participation of women in economic, social, and cultural development at all levels and recognize women's contributions to international cooperation and world peace.

The traditional crowd pleaser, however, is the air show, and this year Edwards has a double treat — the Air Force Thunderbirds and the Army Golden Knights.

The Thunderbirds, now in their 23rd season, perform breath-taking solo and formation aerobatics which demonstrate the skill of today's Air Force pilot and the maneuverability of his aircraft.

The Thunderbirds, who presently are flying the Northrop T-38 Talon, will arrive Edwards at 10:30 a.m. and perform at 2:30 p.m.

The Golden Knights parachute team is the Army's official aerial demonstration unit. No other team, civilian or military, has won as many national international honors in the sport of free-fall parachuting as the Golden Knights.

The team has produced ten national and three world parachuting champions and has held as many as 98 of the 128 possible world accuracy records. They will begin their free-fall exhibitions at 1:15 p.m.

Throughout the day-long schedule, which begins at 9 a.m. and concludes at 4 p.m., are rock and jazz performances by the 15th Air Force Band, model airplane stunt flying and a drill team competition between George, March and Edwards Air Force Bases.

Traffic flow from the main entrances of the base to and from the parking areas will be specially routed by the base security police to minimize congestion and expedite entry and exit of spectators.

Cashmere comeback

Recently a woman in her late 30s confessed she was going to indulge in a long-delayed buying urge.

"I'm going to rebuild my wardrobe of cashmere sweaters...just like the many I had when I was in college."

After the first few years of mutual sacrifice to pay, for example, for a new home, and with both working, she and her husband now were going to treat themselves. His mad money was set aside for, among other things, new stereo, a chain saw and small tractor.

Her desire for "softer" items comes at a time when cashmere is making a fashion comback despite high prices.

Once coveted by kings and centuries later by American high School girls, it still reigns, and a whole new generation is learning of its luxury.

In the 1930s, '40s and even early '50s, the cashmere sweater was a garment not just to wear but to cherish. It was a sign of prestige for a coed to have a whole collection. But in the '60s it was not a fashion item. It was too costly to play the kooky role required in fashions of that decade.

Today, with the resurgence of both classic styles and the new interest in natural fibers, cashmere has made a spectacular comeback, and fashion experts predict that this autumn the luxury fiber will be more popular than ever.

"The price is a little higher than in the old days but the quality is even better," said Arthur Dery, president of Dalton of America.

"When one understands the rarity of fine cashmere," he added, "and the difficulties in producing it, the price is acceptable.

"Actually, little of the cashmere wool comes from Kashmir. Most of today's fleece comes from further north, the best grades from China, Inner and Outer Mongolia, Manchuria and Tibet," Dery said.

"Actually, little of the cashmere wool comes from Kashmir. Most of today's fleece comes from further north, the best grades from China, Inner and Outer Mongolia, Manchuria and Tibet," Dery said.

"The fleece is found only on a strange domestic animal able to subsist on little food. It is a small short-legged goat protected from the extreme cold by a warm undercoat of fine fleece and by a thick outer coat of course hair."

According to Dery, the cashmere goat produces very little fine wool. The male gives forth about four ounces and the female about two ounces a year. A year's yield from four to six goats is needed for a sweater.

Considering all this, cashmere can hardly be called unnecessarily expensive. It was always a luxury item.

Church News

Cucamonga Methodist

Cucamonga United Methodist Church will hold its annual bazaar 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday. The church, 7690 Archibald Ave., Cucamonga, has been noted for its handcrafting skills since 1908 when members built the "little stone church" with 337 wagonloads of rock drawn by mules from the mountains.

Items featured at the bazzar will include pottery, leather, sewing, woodcraft and special Christmas items, plants and macrame. A home-baked goods booth will offer homemade bread, cookies, pies, jams and jellies and a candy shop will offer such sweet treats as homemade candy, and popcorn balls.

Luncheon will be served beginning at 11 a.m. Shoppers may chooose either a hamburger or hot dog lunch including baked beans, apple pie and beverage.

Upland Nazarene

Maria Anne "Hansi" Hirschmann will speak at First Church of the Nazarene, Upland 6 p.m. Sunday. As a young orphan girl selected for education by the Nazi regime, Maria left her mountain home in Czechoslovakia to begin a life that led through the desperate war years, the nightmare of a communist labor camp, and finally escape to the West.

Maria Anne Hirschmann is the author of a best seller, "Hansi: The Girl Who Loved the Swastika:" a former teacher of high school dropouts and drug addicts, and a lecturer. Her lecture tours have taken her across the United States, Canada, Europe and the Orient.

A sequel to the Hansi book, "Hansi's New Life" (Revell, June 1975), provides a fresh look at the United States and Christian principles.

Christian Center

Allan Mayer, grandson of Oscar Mayer will share his testimony of how Jesus Christ changed his life at the Valley Christian Center 7:30 p.m. Friday. The church is located at 1404 Gladstone, San Dimas.

LV Methodist

The Annual Bazaar, sponsored by the United Methodist Women of La Verne, will be held 10 a.m. - 7 p.m. Saturday at the church, 3205 D St., across from Bonita High School.

Parish Center

The second annual "Little Las Vegas Nite" will be held 8 p.m. - midnight Friday at the Parish Center, corner of Banyan and Beryl Streets, Alta Loma. A donation of $5 per person includes $1,000 play money, cold buffet at 10 p.m. and one drink.

Local church to burn mortgage

The First Presbyterian Church of Upland will burn its mortgage in a symbolic ceremony 10:30 a.m. Sunday. The debt-free mortgage will be burned by Judge Henry Busch, assisted by Francie and Peggy French, fifth-generation members of the congregation.

Following the ceremony, a procession carrying valued church items will be led by former and present pastors: Dr. D.G. Stewart, and the Revs. Rufus Oakey, Tusten A. Hart, Richard Mitchell, Robert Gillogly and Robert Flagg.

The Revs. Hart and Mitchell, who served during construction of the present church, will deliver the meditations.

A noon luncheon will emphasize both the past and future of the church. Luncheon reservation deadline is Friday. Dr. Daniel B. Milliken will serve as master of ceremonies for the program following the luncheon

Council of Churches presented award

The Pomona Valley Council of Churches received the first annual recognition award presented by the National Council of Churches' Commission on Regional and Local Ecumenism. The Ecumenical Service Award was presented to the local council in the category of special events, honoring it for its highly successful Hunger Walk 1974.

The award was presented to Mrs. Audrey Lightbody, executive director of the Pomona Valley Council of Churches, at its eighth Annual Assembly Oct. 30.

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "Your Hunger Walk, which was the largest such walk in the country with the largest amount of money being raised, offers the opportunity for broad recognition of your efforts in mission and unity."

After the presentation, Msgr. William Barry, pastor of Our Lady of the Assumption Roman Catholic Church in Claremont and this years' Walk for the Hungry chairperson, announced the date and location for this year's walk. It will take place on Nov. 16 at Memorial Park in Upland (Foothill Blvd. between Campus and Grove) beginning at 1:00 P.M. It is hoped that the ten mile walk this year will exceed both the 1,800 number who walked and the $32,000 raised last year.

Action was taken on a resolution on the observance of the religious holidays presented by the Hunger Task Force of the council. The resolution here quoted was unanimously passed by the delegates to the annual assembly and was referred to each church to strongly implement this action. The test of the resolution is as follows:

Whereas, debilitating world-wide poverty, hunger and malnutrition in the midst of great wealth are an affront to God,

And whereas, the Christian Gospel clearly challenges us to aid starving and oppressed peoples everywhere,

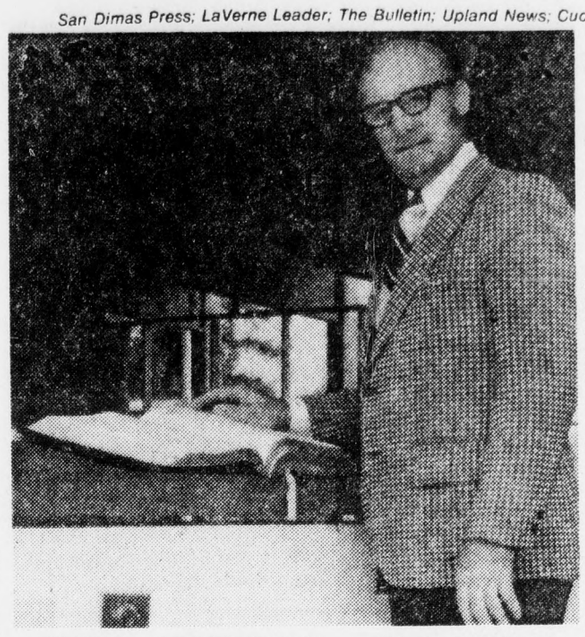
Therefore, be it resolved that the Pomona Valley Council of Churches, convened in its eighth annual assembly on Oct. 30, 1975, calls upon its member churches and all persons of good will to observe the approaching religious holidays from Thanksgiving through Christmas and the New Year with hearts thankful to Almighty God, with a holy abstinence from wasteful and gluttonous consumption.

'Come Alive' Rally planned

Covina Seventh-day Adventist Church members and friends will attend a "Come Alive" 3:30-5:30 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Rally Saturday at the Eagle Rock High School, 1750 Yosemite Drive, Glendale. The Covina church serves San Dimas and La Verne.

Roy Naden, speaker of the "Come Alive" television series seen three times each week on KCOP, Channel 13, the Heritage Singers, U.S.A., and black soloist Walter Arties will be main attractions at the rally. The Heritage Singers, who also appear on Naden's television show, are widely known, having toured the United States and Canada and filled several appointments overseas, usually performing before standing-room-only audiences. The group is self supporting.

The rally is in preparation for a laymen's areawide crusade to be held beginning Jan. 16. Twenty-one churches with about 8,800 lay people and two Adventist academies will be involved.



TENTH ANNIVERSARY — Pastro Melvin DeVries has asked that members "fill the pews" for the Valley Community Drive-In Church's tenth anniversary celebration Sunday. (Photo by Peggy Olsen)

The Californians to perform in Walnut

One of the greatest names in gospel music ever to come out of the Western states of America will present a gospel concert 6 p.m. Sunday at Christian Chapel, 1920 S. Brea Canyon Cutoff, Walnut.

The Californians have members from varied backgrounds.

In addition to their personal appearances, the Californians have been heard on radio and seen on television in many places across the U.S. They are the featured gospel artist at Riverside Counties National Date Festival and sponsor the Western States Quartet Convention held annually at the San Gabriel Civic Auditorium. The convention convenes in November.

Church to celebrate 10th year

Celebrating its tenth anniversary Sunday will be the Valley Community Drive-In Church, Lone Hill Avenue and Covina Boulevard, San Dimas.

Under the leadership of Pastor Melvin De Vries, the congregation has been encouraged to "fill the pews" be inviting friends and relatives to sit in the pew with them or come with them in their car. Inactive members have been contacted with special invitations and other interested friends have also been invited. The public is also invited to attend.

Pastor De Vries will speak on the subject "Church For Sale" at both services, the 8:30 a.m. drive-in only and 11 a.m. walk-in and drive-in service. Special music has been prepared by the Chancel Choir as well as the children's choirs.

A reception will follow the second hour at noon when a giant birthday cake will be served in the narthex of the church.

Three elders and three deacons were elected to the consistory (church board) at the congregational meeting held recently as part of the anniversary chain of events.

Apple raisin fritters go well with eggs and bacon for brunch. How long has it been since you've had real homemade fritters?

Barbecue cross rib

Tender beef steaks cut from a cross rib roast are an excellent and economical choice for barbecuing. For family style steak, a slice cut two inches thick double serving sizes. Boneless cross rib has always been a favorite for roasting — the same satisfying flavor and tender juiciness makes it splendid for charcoal grilling, too.

Cross rib steaks are tender enough to cook as is, or marinate first for extra flavor. Here we used a tasty lemon, onion, mustard and worcestershire seasoned mixture — marinate beef at least an hour before cooking or overnight if you wish.

Lemon Barbecued Beef Cross Rib Steak

4 (3/4-inch thick) slices rolled beef cross rib
1 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/3 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Lemon slices
Minced parsley

Place beef in single layer in shallow pan. Mix lemon peel and juice with oil, onion, salt, worcestershire sauce, mustard and pepper. Pour over beef slices. Marinate in refrigerator 3 hours or overnight. Grill over hot coals, brushing occasionally with marinade, 5 to 7 minutes on each side.

Perform a death-defying act.

Reduce if overweight.

Try skill with apple fritters

How long has it been since you've had real home made fritters? Or, have you ever had homemade fritters?

Whatever your experience may be, it is time to try your cooking skill with an easy fritter recipe that combines cooking apples and raisins plus a dash of spice. Apple Raisin Fritters are enjoyable for breakfast or as a handsome surprise for Sunday brunch guests.

Apple Raisin Fritters

2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon peanut oil
4 medium size cooking apples, peeled, cored and diced
1/2 cup raisins
1 teaspoon nutmeg or cinnamon
Deep peanut oil heated to 375 degrees (hot)
1 cup granulated sugar mixed with grated rind of 1 lemon

In a bowl beat egg and stir in milk, sugar, flour, baking powder, salt and oil. Fold in apples and raisins. Drop by heaping tablespoons into hot peanut oil. Fry 3 ro 4 minutes or until brown on all sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Roll warm fritters in sugar mixture and serve warm (or serve with maple syrup, sausage or bacon or scrambled eggs for brunch.) Makes 6 servings.

Gourmet way

Tired of party-pooping desserts that put guests to sleep with their richness? Try this gourmet way to smiles of satisfaction. In blender combine a drained can of fruit cocktail, lime sherbet and creme de menthe to taste; Whir. Serve this refresher sherbet in glasses topped with a mint sprig.

Switch from franks, burgers

Make steak sandwiches

Whether grilling food at the beach or in the backyard get away from familiar franks and burgers for a change of eating.

Family or guests will enjoy fixing their own Greek-inspired picnic steakwiches that are pilled high with tomatoes, cheese, avocado and sour cream, to name a few go-along foods. You can keep expenses down by using a beef chuck blade or seven-bone pot roast made tender with the use of a natural meat tenderizer. Carve the grilled steak diagonally across the grain into thin slices, serve with Peta bread or hollowed out French rolls and let everyone make his own potluck sandwich.

Picnic Steakwiches

1 (2½ to 3-pound) beef chuck blade or 7-bone pot-roast, 1¼ inches thick*

natural meat tenderizer, seasoned or unseasoned

6 individual Peta bread envelopes, slit or 6 French rolls, hollowed out

½ medium head lettuce, shredded

2 large tomatoes, diced

1 cucumber, seeded and diced

1 2 to 3 green onions, chopped

1 medium avocado, sliced (optional)

1 cup grated Cheddar cheese

1 cup dairy sour cream

Trim excess fat from meat. Slash fat edges to prevent curling. Prepare all surfaces of meat, one side at a time, with natural meat tenderizer and use no salt. Grill 2 inches from glowing coals a total of 15 to 20 minutes for medium rare or until desired degree of doneness, turning frequently. Slice meat diagonally across grain into thin slices. Set out meat, bread, vegetables, cheese and sour cream. Let each person fill his own sandwich with meat and accompaniments as desired. Makes 6 servings.

(*OR 1 (1½ to 2-pound) beef round top or bottom round steak)

Commercial jars are not safe for canning

Never use empty commercial jars, such as those from mayonnaise, peanut butter or pickles, for home canning. They are lighter weight than mason jars made especially for home canning, and they are not treated to withstand high temperatures.

ANOTHER FIRST — Los Angeles Zoo officials recently announced the successful hatching and hand-raising of two Palsmandibled aracaris, members of the Toucan family. The birds, rejected by their parents, were hand raised in the zoo's aviary. This is the first successful captive hatching and raising of these birds.

'Selma' to open at the Hartford

Popular television personality Redd Foxx will turn his hands to producing when he presents the Tom Butler production of the pwerful new musical, "Selma," opening at the Huntington Hartford Theatre, Hollywood Nov. 21.

Presented as a joyous tribute to Martin Luther King, the production incorporates the entire Black Movement from 1955 to 1968, using King as its focal point, and Alabama as its setting. A warm and compassionate look at King, "Selma," as a definitive study, is intensively riveting; full of bitter ironies, shattering vitality, and thundering tautness.

With Foxx acting as Executive Producer, the production will be co-produced by Joe Hubbard, Jr. and Tommy Butler, who has also written the book, music, and lyrics, and will essay the role of Dr. King. Mark Warren will handle direction of the large twenty-five member cast.

Two low-priced previews on Wednesday, Nov. 19 and Thursday, Nov. 20, will precede the official opening on Nov. 21. Performance schedule will be Tuesday through Saturday and Sunday and a Sunday evening performance at 7 p.m.

Boy wanted for 'Scrooge'

A boy, aged about 11-12 years old, is required for the musical "Scrooge" which is to be presented this coming December by Circle Productions, Claremont.

It is imperative that boys auditioning possess good treble voices for singing.

For further information call 624-8964 evenings only.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR INCOME TAX LEGALLY!

If you are not presently covered by a pension or retirement fund where you work, you can now save up to 15% of your annual earned income (or $1,500, whichever is less) in a Mutual Savings Individual Retirement Account (IRA), free of Federal income tax until you retire. Interest earned on your retirement plan is also tax-deferred.

This plan is easy to understand, does not require a lot of money, is fully insured, and can be adjusted to meet individual needs. You will save more money...earn more interest...take no risk...pay less tax with a Mutual Savings IRA account.

If you are self-employed, you are eligible for an HR-10 account (Keogh Plan), and can save up to 15% (or $7,500, whichever is less) from your net earnings each year, free of Federal income tax until you retire. Interest earned on this retirement plan is also tax-deferred.

Start your retirement plan today!

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
T.S. No. 75-0333

On December 4, 1975, at 11:00 A.M., Security Allied Services as duly appointed Trustee under and pursuant to Deed of Trust recorded July 30, 1973, as inst. No. 59, in book 8235, page 87, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of San Bernardino County, State of California WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION TO HIGHEST BIDDER FOR CASH (payable at time of sale in lawful money of the United States) at the north entrance to the County Courthouse, in the City of San Bernardino, California all right, title and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust in the property situated in said County and State described as:

The southerly 380 feet of the west one-half of the north one-half of the northwest one-quarter of the southwest one-quarter of section 2, township 1 south, range 7 west, according to map of Cucamonga Lands, in the county of San Bernardino, State of California, as per map recorded in book 4, page 9 of maps, in the office of the county recorder of said county.

Except that portion lying within the following described property:

Beginning at the northwest corner of the southwest one-quarter of said section 2, said corner also being the intersection of the center line of Archibald Avenue with the center line of Church Street (east); thence north 89° 53' 30" east along the north line of said southwest one-quarter, said north line also being the said center line of Church Street (east) a distance of 183.00 feet; thence south 0° 06' 30" east 30.00 feet to a point on the south line of said Church Street; thence south 83° 07' 27" west 118.80 feet; thence along a non-tangent curve, concave southeasterly, with a radius of 20.00 feet, through an angle of 90° 01' 15", from a tangent bearing south 89° 53' 30" west, a distance of 31.42 feet; thence south 0° 07' 45" east 613.05 feet, more or less, to a point on the south line of the north one-half of the northwest one-quarter of the southwest one-quarter of said section 2; thence westerly along said south line a distance of 45.00 feet, more or less, to a point on the west line of said section 2, said west line also being the said center line of Archibald Avenue; thence north 0° 07' 45" west along said west line a distance of 677.08 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 7723 Archibald Avenue, Cucamonga, California.

The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein.

Said sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal, sum of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, with interest thereon, as provided in said note(s), advances, if any, under the terms of said Deed of Trust, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust.

OFFICIAL NOTICE INVITING BIDS

Notice is hereby given that the Executive Officer-Clerk of the Board of Supervisors will receive sealed bids in a place, time and manner hereinafter described, for furnishing all materials, labor and equipment required for the construction to complete the following work:

PROJECTS TABULATION

SD - 1, SPECS. NO. CE-D-1016, PROJECT, Brackett Field Hanger Drainage Modifications, DEPOSIT $10.00, DATE OF BID OPENING November 19, 1975.

Bids shall conform to drawings and specifications open to inspection in the Office of the Executive Officer - Clerk of the Board of Supervisors and in Room 103, Los Angeles County Engineering Building, 108 West Second Street, Los Angeles, California 90012. Copies of specifications and drawings of the work to be bid upon can be obtained in Engineering Building Room 103 for a refundable deposit in the amount indicated. Refunds are made when drawings and specifications are returned in good condition within fourteen (14) days after bid opening date.

Each bid will be submitted on a form obtained in Engineering Building Room 103. Bids shall be sealed and filed at the Public Counter, Room 103, County Engineer Building, before 10:45 a.m. on the date indicated. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared by the County Engineer at 11:00 a.m. on this date in Engineering Building Hearing Room 100.

Bidders must comply with the provisions of General Provisions of the Specifications and Form of Proposal concerning bid guarantee, contract bonds and insurance requirements, and to the requirements for appropriate license classification issued by the Contractors State License Board.

Pursuant to the Labor Code of the State of California, the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for each craft or type of workman needed to execute any construction contracts (s) which may be awarded the successful bidder or bidders by the County of Los Angeles. Copies of the wage scale are on file in the office of the Executive Officer - Clerk of the Board of Supervisors. In the event the contractor or any subcontractor employed by him pays a workman less than the stipulated prevailing rate for such work or craft, the contractor will be liable for all forfeits and additional wage payments provided in Section 1775 of the Labor Code of the State of California.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive technical errors and discrepancies in bids submitted in the public interest.

Published by order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, dated October 28, 1975.

ORDINANCE NO. 415
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MONTCLAIR AMENDING SECTION 5-2.201 OF ARTICLE 2, CHAPTER 2, TITLE 5, AND ADDING SECTION 5-2.203 TO ARTICLE 2, CHAPTER 2, TITLE 5, OF THE MONTCLAIR MUNICIPAL CODE RELATING TO FORTUNE-TELLING.

The City Council of the City of Montclair does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT TO CODE. Section 5-2.201 of Article 2, Chapter 2, Title 5 of the Montclair Municipal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5-2.201. It shall be unlawful for any person to carry on, practice, or profess to practice the business or art of astrology, palmistry, phrenology, life reading, fortune-telling, cartomancy, clairvoyance, clair audience, crystal gazing, mediumship, spirit photography, spirit augury, divination, magic necronmancy, character reading, fortune telling by handwriting analysis, or other similar businesses or arts and demand or receive, directly or indirectly, a fee, gift, donation, or reward for such exercise or exhibition.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT TO CODE. Section 5-2.203 is hereby added to Article 2, Chapter 2, Title 5 of the Montclair Municipal Code, reads as follows:

Sec. 5-2.203. Exemptions. The provisions of Sections 5-2.201 and 5-2.202 shall not be construed to include, prohibit, or interfere with the exercise of any religious or spiritual function of any priest, minister, rector, or any accredited representative of any bona fide church or religion when such priest, minister, rector, or accredited representative holds a certificate of credit, commission, or ordination under the ecclesiastical laws of a religious corporation incorporated under the laws of any state or territory of the United States of America, or any voluntary religious association, and who fully conforms to the rites and practices prescribed by the supreme conferences, convocation, convention, assembly, association or synod of the system or faith with which such priest, minister, rector, or accredited representative is affiliated; provided, however, any church or religious organization which is organized for the primary purpose of conferring certificates of commission, credit, or ordination for a price and not primarily for the purpose of teaching and practicing a religious doctrine or belief, shall not be deemed to be a bona fide church or religious organization.

SECTION 3. VALIDITY

If any section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance or any part thereof is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, then such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance or any part thereof. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed each section, subsection, subdivision, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, subdivisions, paragraphs, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SECTION 4. PUBLICATION

The City Clerk of the City of Montclair shall cause this ordinance to be published in the Montclair Tribune at least once within fifteen (15) days after its passage.

APPROVED AND ADOPTED this 3rd day of November, 1975.

Arrange view from indoors

The lucky homeowner will take his first look through his picture window and discover that it frames a landscape, natural or man-made, that's almost perfect as is. Except for adding seasonal color and keeping the "picture" well-groomed and healthy, there is basically nothing he has to do in order to enjoy it through the year.

For those who have to arrange, or re-arrange, the view from indoors to get the desired picture, the first step is usually to screen out objects that spoil the view. Carefully selected shrubs and trees are tops for this as they not only blend into the landscape naturally, but their foliages and flowers are assets in themselves.

Taller selections in the Pittosporum family are often ideal for certain situations and popular for screening purposes. This is true of upright-growing Carolina cherry as well. It has crisp green foliage. Compact varieties are highly recommended. They can be pruned and shaped, as desired. Where frost isn't a problem Eugenia and any of several ornamental figs (Ficus) rate top consideration Other excellent selections include Photinia fraseri and Viburnums. Your nurseryman can show you a wide variety of plants to frame your view and serve as living screens.

After the stage is set by screening, the fun of putting the picture in the window begins. The California Association of Nurserymen says to keep in mind that this is a view that's on display 12 months a year.

One of the most popular bedding plants grown in American gardens is the grandiflora petunia, used extensively in beds and borders or cascading from container plantings. Other container flower favorites are pansies, French marigolds, wax begonias, impatiens, coleus and geraniums.

Better lawn

"I'd like to have a better lawn — but I can't spare all the extra time it would take," is a statement often heard wherever homeowners gather. Exactly how much extra time usually doesn't enter the conversation, for few people really know.

Frequently overlooked is the fact that a poor lawn has to be mowed as often as a good lawn. (Weeds grow as fast or faster than grass and dichondra.) And most lawns need watering from time to time. These two activities take up most of anyone's law maintenance time — from 75 to 100 hours a year perhaps, depending on the weather. But it's what a homeowner does over and above mowing and watering that really makes a difference.

Lawn specialists at the turf center at Marysville, Ohio, calculate that the "do-it-yourselfer" with a lawn spreader can treat 2,500-square foot of lawn area in about half an hour — whether it's just fertilizer or a modern multi-benefit combination product. With six such half-hour treatments a year (once every other month), the lawn will be fertilized enbough to keep a steady supply of nutrients available for proper grass and dichondra development, crabgrass and most common broadleaf weeds could be prevented or cleared out, and insect invasions controlled.

The Chaffey Consort, a musical ensemble from Chaffey College, practices Renaissance melodies for Patricia Newton, seated, president of Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council. Musicians, from left, Bob Beattie, Cindy Michael and Jim Patterson will entertain at the 12th annual Recognition Dinner of the local council by playing authentic Elizabethan instruments — psalters, krum horns and recorders. The dinner is scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday at the Pomona National Golf Club, 20055 Colima Road, Walnut.

Renaissance theme planned

Annual Girl Scout dinner

Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council will cast aside the veils of time for members and guests who attend the 12th Annual Recognition Dinner with its Renaissance theme at the Pomona National Golf Club's Regency Room on Thursday.

The event is held annually to honor community organizations, businesses and various members of the scouting family throughout the 33 communities served by the council. Special recognition is given for the generous support of time, energy and financial help to the Girl Scout program.

"A social hour will precede the seven o'clock dinner," according to Margaret Potvin, who is in charge of the evening's festivities. Vince Martin, member of the council's board of directors and district manager of the Pomona District Southern California Edison Company will serve as master of ceremonies. The Rev. Stephen J. Kelly of Rowland Heights, Pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, will present the invocation. The flag ceremony will be led by junior troop 133 with Margaret Potvin, leader, and Pat Payne, assistant leader.

Unique entertainment of Renaissance melodies played on authentic Elizabethan instruments including psalters, krum horns and recorders will be provided by the Chaffey Consort, comprised of Chaffey College students Bob Beattie, Cindy Michael and Jim Patterson.

Scenes from Shakespeare's "As You Like It" will be performed by Linda M. Grinstead and Richard Hiller, members of the Four College Players, to keep the mood of the theme. Jovial little "court jesters" propped on cones have been created from papier mache for centerpieces. These ornate decorations will be presented to a lucky guest at each table at the close of the evening.

Reservations for this tour to the Renaissance may be made by calling Karen Hammond at the Spanish Trails Council office, (714) 623-2518 or (213) 331-7325.

Store cleaners, polishes inside louvered cabinets

No conscientious parent would knowingly leave harmful drugs or medicines lying about in a medicine cabinet where they could be easily reached by small children.

Yet many parents will hide unsightly aerosol spray cleaners and liquid polishes and waxes on the floor of a pantry or linen closet. Many of these substances are combustible. They can present a definite fire hazard if stored in a stuffy, closed area where there is an absence of circulating air. The same danger exists in a basement or garage closet used to store paint.

One way to reduce those dangers substantially is to install louver doors on closets where combustible materials are stored. Air circulates between the louvers and dissipates any fumes that might otherwise build up.

In the case of a linen or clothes closet, not only can louvered doors reduce the damaging effects of mildew, but the free circulation of air through the louvers also helps prevent the linens and clothes from getting a musty smell.

Stock louver doors made of ponderosa pine that can be painted or stained are available at local building supply centers. They come in a choice of styles. Bifold doors glide on tracks and take up very little floor space. Standard louver doors, wide or narrow, can be hinged to swing open or hung on tracks, which require no swing space.

Louver doors can also be used as room dividers or connecting doors, adding a distinctive design feature to any room.

Hues Corporation to play Knott's gig

The Hues Corporation, whose smash hit, "Rock the Boat," sold more than three million copies, will be appearing Nov. 15 at Knott's Berry Farm's Good Time Theatre.

A rock-soul and pop trio, the Huges Corporation is also known for such recent chart-climbing singles as "Love Corporation" and "Rockin' Soul."

Hues Corporation members, H. Ann Kelley, St. Clair Lee and Karl Russell play to packed houses with their versatile, fast-paced act.

The group has recently appeared at the Circus Circus in Las Vegas, New York's Apollo Theatre and the Starwood Club in Los Angeles. They were also featured in the horror movie "Blacula" and on two "Dick Clark" television shows.

Show times in Knott's Theatre are 6, 7:30 and 9 p.m.

SCIATICA - A PAINFUL EXPERIENCE FOR ANYONE

By Dr. W. P. Helzer, D.C.

Sciatica, often mistakenly referred to as a disease, is actually a symptom of nerve pressure or an irritation of the sciatic nerve caused by a physical injury, malfunction, or disease.

Dr. Wes Helzer, D.C.

Since the sciatic nerve is the largest and longest nerve in the human body, it is not surprising that many authorities consider it the most susceptible to injury.

While sciatica can occur in either sex, seventy-two percent of its victims are men.

Whether caused by over-exertion, a fall down a stairway, or a kick from a mule, the result is the same . . . pain.

The pain may be only minor in its first stages, or it may be so crippling and intense as to make strong athletes weep.

Pain may appear anywhere in the region of the sciatic nerve, from the low back down to the feet.

Applying heat or cold to the painful area, or gulping pain-killing drugs might bring temporary relief at best. But the problem will remain.

As a specialist in nerves and spinal disorders, the modern Doctor of Chiropractic knows that nerve interference in the low back is the actual cause of the problem. His training and experience enable him to treat the cause, not just administer temporary measures aimed at relieving the symptoms. With the nerve interference eliminated, the sciatic nerve can once again function properly, eliminating the pain and discomfort naturally from within.

(Note: Dr. Helzer maintains chiropractic offices at 108 East H Street, Ontario, telephone: 983-1711). (C) ARS 1975
